

Archbishop Bernardito Auza, Permanent Observer of the Holy See to the United Nations and president of the Path to Peace Foundation, has announced that Aid to the Church in Need (ACN) will be the 2019 recipient of the Path to Peace Award.

Aid to the Church in Need is a Catholic and Pontifical organization concerned with the poor, oppressed or persecuted communities.

The Path to Peace Foundation supports various aspects of the work of the Holy See Mission to the UN and also funds humanitarian projects in developing countries.

Link to ACN news release